Know Your Stuf

Dress Code::

There are always a lot of questions and discussions about appropriate attire on the beach as well as in the Big Room. The reason parameters are set is to keep from disrupting the focus of camp. One-piece swimsuits, no spaghetti straps or halter-tops. The general dress code is: be smart, be prudent, and be respectful.

What to Bring::

Beach towel, sunscreen, water bottles, flip flops, one-piece bathing suits, shorts, t-shirts, Bible, and journal. Spending money for meals on the road, snacks, arcade games, BigStuf store. Bed linens and bath towels are provided in the hotel rooms.

Rooming::

We are staying in hotel rooms. Each room sleeps 6 people. Some rooms have two double beds and a pull out couch and the others have two double beds and air mattress on the floor. Obviously, guys and girls will be separated and adults will be spread out in the rooms.

Safety::

All BigStuf staff and interns are CPR and First Aid certified. The hotel does have security guards who patrol the area. We will have chaperones on the trip with us as well.
